

Maximum Storage, Optimum Productivity

“Our delight with the Maxitek installation is unqualified. The compactus exceeds our expectations in terms of both space economy and ease of use. The simple and single handed movement of densely packed shelving ranges is unprecedented in my many years of experience working with library shelving solutions.” Liz Curach, University Librarian..

Bosco Storage Solutions is proud to be associated with the University of Western Sydney in the installation of Bosco's Maxitek™ mobile shelving system in the University's central library storage centre located on the UWS Hawkesbury campus at Richmond, north west of Sydney.

Needing to relocate tens of thousands of volumes of high value, low use materials to a recently renovated central library storage centre, the University called for tenders for a reliable and efficient, user-friendly mobile shelving storage system. Consolidating this material from separate campuses was a challenge. The new Maxitek™ mobile storage shelving system easily and efficiently combined multiple collections into one, maximising valuable floor space and ensuring ease of access for retrieval.

With a total capacity of 123 tonne / 2,854 lineal metres of library storage, the 410 bay Maxitek™ system includes 37 double mobile units, 3 double static units and 2 single sided static units. The mechanically assisted ranges with fully welded bases move effortlessly. Ease of operation, safety for operators and security of the valuable contents are guaranteed.
